Description

The Airpress 45454 impact nut ratchet is a proven device that you can use to strengthen and loosen components. The pin coupling mechanism offers 122 Nm of power with a super slim design. Maximum revolutions at 600 rpm will greatly facilitate your work. The 45454 angle impact wrench has a compact and composite housing, a universal tool holder and an L / R rotary switch. The maximum loudness is 90 dB (A). Especially popular in car and repair workshops, maintenance departments, production lines and assembly companies. This percussion ratchet is less strong than an impact wrench, but can get into the tighter spaces.
